ORGANIZATION AND RULES.

The University, when fully organized, is expected to contain eight Colleges.

I.—COLLEGE OF LITERATURE AND THE ARTS.

This College has been in operation the past year. The studies are arranged in the following course, which covers four years:

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION.

Freshman Year.—Xenophon; Homer; Hadley's Greek Grammar; Cæsar; Virgil; Bingham's Latin Grammar; Robinson's University Algebra; Davies Legendre; Quackenbos's Aids to Composition; Declamations; Essays throughout the course.

Sophomore Year.—Herodotus; Greek Tragedy; Demosthenes; Plato; Horace; Tacitus; Davies' Trigonometry and Surveying; Whateley's Rhetoric; Debates and Orations.

Junior Year.—Willson's History; Snell's Olmsted's Natural Philosophy; Kiddle's Astronomy; Kames' Elements of Criticism; Oratoric Analysis; Speeches, Memorized and Extemporaneous; Chemistry, Natural History, or Modern Languages, at the choice of the student.

Senior Year.—Wayland's Political Economy; Mill's Logic; Hamilton's Metaphysics; Stewart's Active and Moral Powers; Jouffroy's Ethics; Alexander's Moral Philosophy; Butler's Analogy; Hegel's Æsthetics; Cleveland's English Literature; Shakespere; Oratoric Analysis; Debates and Orations. Chemistry, Natural History or Modern Languages, at the choice of the student.

Admission.—Students are not ordinarily admitted to the University Classes under sixteen years of age, nor into the Preparatory Department under twelve.

Applicants must bring certificates of good moral character.

No examination is required for admission to Preparatory Classes.

Candidates for the Freshman Classes are examined in two Books of Cæsar, Virgil's Bucolics and six Books of the Æneid; Latin Prosody; Greek Inflections, Greek Reader and one book of Xenophon's Anabasis; Arithmetic, Algebra through equations of the first degree; English Grammar; Ancient and Modern Geography.

Degrees.—Students who complete the course become candidates for the degree of A. B. Those who also finish all the elective studies may receive the degree of A. M. Those not completing the course, can receive Diplomas or Certificates of Proficiency, signed by the individual Professors.

Lectures have been delivered by the Faculty to the whole body of students on the Theory and Practice of Teaching, Constitution of the United States, Astronomy, Philology, Physiology, Botany and Chemistry.

Throughout the course the students are required to attend the reading of the Holy Scriptures and prayers every morning and every evening, except Saturday. On Sunday afternoon they recite in the Historical parts of the Bible.

II.—COLLEGE OF PHILOSOPHY.

Students in this College will substitute Chemistry and Natural History for the Greek and Latin, and may take Greek, Latin, Modern Languages or Engineering as the elective study of the last two years.

The Degrees in this College are Ph. B. and Ph. D.

III.—COLLEGE OF SCIENCE AND THE ARTS.

Not yet organized.

IV.—COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AND THE MECHANIC ARTS.

This College is not yet fully organized.

The Professor of Agriculture will give instruction in his department, and also in Chemistry and Natural History. Draper's Chemistry, Emmons' Geology, and Eaton's Botany will be used as text books.

No previous literary attainments are required for the study of Agriculture. The text-books used will be Johnston's series, and Caldwell's Analytical Chemistry.

V.—BUSINESS AND COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.

Not yet organized.

VI.—NORMAL COLLEGE.

This College is not yet fully organized.

Instruction will be given the coming year in connection with the several classes in the College of Literature and the Arts, and also in the following books and subjects: the Art of Reading; Spencer's Penmanship; Harvey's English Grammar; Holbrook's Theory and Art of Teaching; Cutter's Physiology; Sheppard's Constitution of the United States.

VII.—COLLEGE OF LAW.

VIII.—COLLEGE OF MEDICINE.

These Colleges are not yet organized.

Deportment Record.—A student absent from an exercise without leave, or guilty of an impropriety, is summoned before the Faculty and receives one or more marks for each offence. When his demerits amount to 20, the fact is communicated to his parents. When they amount to 30, a second letter is written recommending his removal.

The deportment grade is determined semi-annually by deducting the number of demerits from 100.

Student's Rooms.—There are five buildings for dormitories, containing accommodations for three hundred students.

Apparatus.—There is sufficient apparatus to illustrate fully the lectures in Chemistry and Natural Philosophy.

Libraries.—The University Library has been arranged on the shelves of the handsome building erected for its use in 1850. It numbers 6,700 volumes, having received an addition of over two hundred since March, 1869.

The Libraries of the Dialectic and Philanthropic Societies contain together about 15,000 volumes.

The Libraries are all open and free to students.

Divine Worship.—The students are expected to attend Divine worship every Sunday in one of the four Churches of the village.
